All new updated 19th edition! Manhattan's most complete guide. Hundreds of new listings. Restaurants, food shops, stores, hotels, services, travel tips and much more. No one pays to get into this book.

From the PublisherReader-friendly; hundreds of new listings and highlighted descriptions and the best places to find them; a multitude of information saving you time and money.From the AuthorI love New York. This book is about finding your New York. While "Where To..." has become better organized and more formalized over the years, it remains a collection of personal notes and opinions. Nobody pays for a listing. Whether you're planning your first visit to New York or have lived here all your life, I think my insights will prove helpful.About the AuthorGerry Frank is uniquely qualified to write the best-selling guide to New York. As a fourth-generation member of one of the nation's leading retailing families, he spent several decades in the merchandising field. As a graduate of Cambridge University in England, and as Chief of Staff to U.S. Senator Mark Hatfield, he has visited over 150 countries, dined with commoners, king, and princes, and has experienced the best (and worst) dining, service, and shopping in every major city in the world. As a proprietor of his own restaurant and specialty-food operation, he knows the food and restaurant business from grocery shelf to table. He has spent over a quarter century researching every corner of Manhattan.
