L'Aura Hladik : Ghosthunting New York City (America's Haunted Road Trip) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ghosthunting New York City (America's Haunted Road Trip):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great ReadBy Philip SchoenbergExcept for spooky stories by S.E. Schlosser, I can think of no better read about ghosts and ghost stories than this book. I give ghost walks as Ghostsofny.com so I have made it my business to read every book about ghosts in New York City. I find it a lively read as one learns about various ghosts as the author shares her search and research about the various ghosts. Most ghost books tend to be pedestrian summaries of what has taken place. Whether or not you believe in ghosts, you will both entertained and informed by the author. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Somewhat disappointed. By Suzy This is a good reference for visiting some historic places in New York City, but I felt like I was reading some little short stories in Junior High School. It had the tone of fiction throughout and I will use it as a reference, that's about it. I found it hard to get through after the first handful of chapters. 0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. New York Ghosts By Carol Cassada I love ghosts and I've also been interested in New York (it's one of the many places I want to visit). I enjoyed reading about the history of New York and the mysteries and ghosts behind some of the city's famous landmarks, including Ellis Island and Radio City Music Hall.

On this leg of the journey, readers will explore the scariest spots in the Big Apple. Author L'Aura Hladik visits more than 30 legendary haunted places, all of which are open to the public so visitors can test their own ghosthunting skills, if they dare. Join L'Aura as she visits each site, snooping around eerie rooms and dark corners, talking to people who swear to their paranormal experiences, and providing a firsthand account. Readers may enjoy Ghosthunting New York City from the safety of an armchair or by hitting the road and using the maps to find 50 more spooky sites and "ghostly resources." Take the A(HRT) Train to the spookiest subway ride of your life.
