By CWWe just moved to the area for work in the National Park Service. Of course the park has excellent maps, however National Geographic meets and exceeds those! The map has clear images of trails and trailheads, including campsites and other points of interest. The map also includes Curecanti National Recreation Area, the neighboring park. This map is waterproof and has so far stood up to the cold and snowy Gunnison winter. I can't wait for the snow to thaw and to finally be able to explore this area in the summer. I'll update this review in the summer after the trails thaw and I can check them out!

OsburnThis map is a bit too "big picture" to be usable for hiking. I would definitely recommend getting the more detailed maps for the various districts over this map. I really didn't use this map for our trip - I used the Needles District map for our hikes in that area, and would assume that the other districts are as well mapped...

We did several 15 mile hikes and 40 mile bike rides, without these maps we would have gotten lost. They are very detailed and help you stay on course. Canyonlands was our favorite - it has really nice amenities for camping. It is 40 miles off the beaten path but well worth the visit.

Waterproof Tear-Resistant Topographic MapNational Geographic's Trails Illustrated map of Grand Canyon West covers some of the less frequented but just as wondrous landscape of Grand Canyon National Park, from Powell Plateau to the park's western boundary. Expertly researched and created in partnership with the National Park Service, U.S. Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management and others, the map also covers the surrounding areas of Kaibab National Forest, Hualapai Havasupai Indian Reservations and Parashant National Monument. With so much of the area being backcountry, the map also includes useful backcountry information, regulations and safety tips, in addition to a backcountry use area guide, color-coded by degree of experience required. Clearly marked trails, including unmaintained primitive trails, will guide you around the area, whether you're traveling by foot, horse, mountain bike, or motorized vehicle. The map base includes contour lines and elevations for summits, and river mileage is noted for the Colorado River. Backcountry zones within the park are marked with their boundaries and labeled with their National Park Service code. Some of the many recreation features include campgrounds and campsites, boat launches, ATV trails, scenic viewpoints, and interpretive trails. Every Trails Illustrated map is printed on "Backcountry Tough" waterproof, tear-resistant paper. A full UTM grid is printed on the map to aid with GPS navigation. Other features found on this map include: Aubrey Cliffs, Grand Canyon, Grand Canyon National Park, Grand Wash Cliffs, Granite Gorge, Kaibab National Forest, Kanab Creek, Kanab Creek Wilderness, Kanab Plateau, Lake Mead National Recreation Area, Lower Granite Gorge, Mount Dellenbaugh, Parashant Canyon, Peach Springs Canyon, Sanup Plateau.
