One side has the eastern portion of the park, the other has the west end. Just couldn't be better. The paper that's used seems to be impervious to water, but I haven't tested it. The details are superior, and it's large enough for many provided notations. A good buy, especially if you want to visit the park. Get it! You won't be sorry. And, it's cheaper than buying it in a book store (I checked...).1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Essential for Smokies hikingBy NCBeanWe live in the foothills of the Smokies and use one or more of maps every weekend:- We highlight the trails we've done on the master map. It holds highlighter ink fine, esp. if you let it dry a few minutes before re-folding the map.- We carry the appropriate east or west map with us. Both have held up well through intense rain storms and being folded awkwardly and crammed into our packs for over 250 miles of hiking so far.They're up to date, light, waterproof and forgiving to bad map folders.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Map is GreatBy BrettFirst of all, understand that this is a MAP. Not a guide of hikes or places. With that being said I am glad I bought this. It is an excellent map of the Smoky Mountains. This can be a little difficult to read if your not familiar with map reading but rest assured this map has it all. It lists trails, roads, trail heads, contours, elevations, and even has important features like waterfalls, mountain elevations, distances, etc. The map is well constructed and lined with waterproof covering so there should be no reason that this map will last for years. The map itself is large and printed on both sides so expect to lay it flat on the floor to read. I will and intend on buying this again when the new maps come out. If you take some time and learn map reading you will never need another reference other than this.

Waterproof Tear-Resistant Topographic MapAmerica's most visited national park and a UNESCO World Heritage Site, Great Smoky Mountains National Park is both renowned for its diversity of plant and animal life and rich in remnants of Southern Appalachian mountain culture. National Geographic's Trails Illustrated map of the park combines unparalleled detail and valuable information for outdoor enthusiasts seeking to explore all the area has to offer with particular attention shown to backcountry campsites, shelters, and stream crossings. A detailed profile of the Appalachian National Scenic Trail, which snakes along the ridge of the Great Smoky Mountains, provides a handy tool for hikers. The map features many key points of interest as well, including Cades Cove, Fontana Lake, Maryville, and Gatlinburg. With over 800 miles of mapped trails, the Great Smoky Mountains National Park map can guide you off the beaten path and back again. The clearly marked trails include mileages between intersections. The map base includes contour lines and elevations for summits, passes and many lakes. Some of the many recreation features include: visitor centers, campgrounds, trail shelters, trailheads, boat ramps, scenic overlooks, interpretive trails and quiet walkways. Every Trails Illustrated map is printed on "Backcountry Tough" waterproof, tear-resistant paper. A full UTM grid is printed on the map to aid with GPS navigation. Other features found on this map include: Cherokee National Forest, Chilhowee Mountain, Clingmans Dome, Fontana Lake, Great Smoky Mountains, Maryville, Mount Chapman, Mount Le Conte, Nantahala National Forest, Newfound Gap, Old Black, Pisgah National Forest, Waynesville. Map Scale = 1:70,000 Sheet Size = 37.75" x 25.5" Folded Size = 4.25" x 9.25"

The most visited national park is surely one of the most written about too. There are several general guides to Great Smoky Mountains National Park along with books that focus on specialized topics like day hikes, fishing, wildflowers or waterfalls. Here are some of the best. "Great Smoky Mountains National Park," National Geographic. This map shows all official park roads, trails, backcountry campsites and topography. --The Asheville Citizen-Times (North Carolina) April 30th, 2009
