Tom Alyea : Haunted House Journal before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Haunted House Journal:

Everyone (or nearly everyone!) loves haunted houses. This journal allows you to record the haunted attractions you visit so you can relive the experience again and again. The typical haunted attraction starts operating during the week/weekend of late September or early October all the way up to the last week/weekend in October or first week/weekend of November. There is even a sub culture of haunted attractions that are open year round and a few that open during special occasions such as haunt conventions or Spring Break (aka Scream Break).
