vgrafen : Scouring the Globe for a Cure: A Disabled Man's Experiences with Stem Cell Treatment before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Scouring the Globe for a Cure: A Disabled Man's Experiences with Stem Cell Treatment:

The book is a chronicle of vgrafen's foreign stem cell procedure to cure paralysis, and a commentary on medical attitudes towards the severely disabled. vgrafen is scathing, humorous, and honest, revealing the misery and faith of his war with paralysis.

About the Authorvgrafen is an American Romantic Poet of the Stoic School; athlete, artist, teacher, musician, and motorcycle racer; a lover of excellence, yet friend to those who suffer. v has survived a paralyzing accident, and has developed the voice to express what he sees, feels, and imagines.
