Ships, Shoes and Maggiemou. A thoroughly enjoyable read, especially as we are embarking on a 74 day partial world cruise from Southampton to Hong Kong on QE in January. In fact, we hope to meet Maggie on the Trans Atlantic segment! The novel has been written as Maggie sees it without all the bells and whistles. Her descriptions, especially about the fashions onboard, are very realistic. It gives a great insight into cruising albeit whether a world cruise or a segment - on one of the Queens or another line. Maggie's colourful personality shines through on every page. You won't be disappointed and money well spent. Can thoroughly recommend this read. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. This is a great book. I hope to take a World Cruise ...By Customer This is a great book. I hope to take a World Cruise some day and I have found all the helpful hints about the ports and ship activities great. I have a few cruises under my belt so I do know some things about cruising but the long duration of a world cruise is something different. This book helped greatly. Except, I believe I will only bring 1 pair brown, 1 pair black, 1 pair sneakers, and a pair of sandals for shoes. Being a guy that is enough. The short poems were fun too. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. World Cruise Revisited By R. S. Greenwood A vanity publication. Poor grammar and punctuation, needs an editor. More attention to shopping than the places visited or life on board. Of interest only because I have been on comparable ships and cruises.

If you've ever wondered what life at sea on a world cruise would be like then this book will spill the beans. Maggiemou is an avid cruiser with a passion for fashion and an obsession with shoes. Walk in her wake and experience the glamour, the high drama, the high heels and the high jinx on the High Seas on two different cruise ships - 118 days on Cunard's Queen Elizabeth and 99 days on PO's Arcadia which visited exotic locations in over 30 countries and called in more than 50 ports around the globe. Meet some of the people who sail on long voyages and find out what to pack - it's an eye-opener! Now relax and prepare to be taken to distant shores. Welcome on board Ships, shoes and Maggiemou. Aye, aye, Captain!

About the Author I was born and raised in the Yorkshire, UK. I have been a working hairdresser in many top salons and locations - including London - all my adult life. I have worked on the Holland America cruise line where I did two world cruises. This gave me a passion for travel, cruise ships and world cruises in particular. I love to cruise and travel to far off places. I love fashion, hair, make up and shoes. My interests in life revolve round cruising and I am an active member on various cruise forums. My hobbies include keeping fit, walking, having fun and working which I class as a hobby these days.
