A little over priced.

Tony Huegel's glove-box-sized Byways guides have led backcountry drivers for more than a decade. From day trips to weekend getaways, the 51 tours here take explorers from sky-scraping peaks overlooking Lake Tahoe to the cool forests of the southern Sierra and the pale washes of the Mojave Desert. Many are near secluded campsites and can be jumping-off points for hiking and mountain biking. All follow established roads through some of the wildest country in the West. With tours for drivers of every experience level, this updated edition covers the entire Sierra as well as the Inyo and White Mountains. Descriptions are augmented with full-page photographs and two-color maps of each trip.

About the AuthorAdventure-driving expert Tony Huegel, who grew up in the San Francisco Bay Area, has a lifelong history of exploring far off the beaten path. Before embarking on extensive travels through the wildlands of the American West for his acclaimed Backcountry Byways guidebook series, Tony hitchhiked and road freight trains cross-country several times, thumbed his way to Alaska, drove a 1965 VW bug to Guatemala in the midst of its civil war, and "autostopped" his way alone across North Africa and Europe. He paused just long enough to earn a bachelor's degree in journalism at the University of California, Berkeley. Since then he's been a full-time news reporter, photographer, editor, author and magazine freelancer.
