Walton Van Loan : Van Loan's Catskill Mountain guide: With bird's-eye view, maps, and choice illustrations before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Van Loan's Catskill Mountain guide: With bird's-eye view, maps, and choice illustrations:

Covering Greene County (Acra, Cairo, Catskill, East Windham, Hunter Jewett Heights, Leeds, Lexington, Palenville, Prattsville, Tannersville and Windham), as well as attractions in Ulster and Delaware Counties. The Catskill Mountains, also known as the Catskills, are a large area in the southeastern portion of New York state. They are located approximately 100 miles north-northwest of New York City and 40 miles southwest of Albany, starting just west of the Hudson River. The Catskills are well known in American culture, both as the setting for many nineteenth century Hudson River School paintings and as the favored destination for urban vacationers from New York City in the mid-twentieth century.
